

A black and white line drawing of a dense crowd of people with various expressions, surrounding a central text box. The drawing is highly detailed, showing many faces with different features like eyes, noses, and mouths, some with exaggerated expressions. The style is reminiscent of a woodcut or a detailed line art illustration. The central text box is a simple, rounded rectangle with a white background, containing the text 'MASENRE MURDES!' in a bold, black, sans-serif font.
